Working for more than one vehicle operator

You can either:

- be employed by a single vehicle operator - called an 'internal transport manager'
- work as a freelance transport manager for more than one vehicle operator - called an 'external transport manager'

You can work as a freelance transport manager for up to 4 different vehicle operators at a time. The maximum total number of vehicles you can manage is 50. You need to have a contract with each operator that sets out what you'll do.
